Instructions to Authors

Contributions written in English and in electronic form should be forwarded to: EA@one.ekof.bg.ac.yu. Authors can also submit paper versions to the following address: Economic Annals, Faculty of Economics, Kamenička 6, 11000 Belgrade, Serbia, but should still provide an electronic version of their paper. Papers should be prepared as a single file (including text, notes, references, figures, and tables) in MS-Word (doc), or the Rich Text Format (rtf).

The journal will maintain high scientific standards. Papers submitted for publication should be original, relevant and scientifically accurate. Authors are expected to provide new information or analysis, and should present a summary of the basic facts they deal with and the conclusions they draw, maintaining coherence and compactness of their reasoning. The texts should also follow appropriate technical standards and stylistic criteria. UK spelling (specialisation, labour, etc.) should be used, while both UK and US abbreviations are acceptable.

All submitted papers will undergo a blind refereeing process. The reviewing procedure requires that the original texts should not be signed by the author. Instead, a separate cover page should be provided, containing only the article's title, author's name and affiliation, mailing address, and a suggested running head (an abbreviated form of the title of no more than 60 letters and spaces). The second page should contain the title, a short abstract of approximately 100 to 200 words, summarising the major points and conclusions of the paper, a list of keywords (up to five) and the two-digit code classification in accordance with the Journal of Economic Literature.
